

HOOVER'S RELIEF PROGRAM GETS UNDER WAY

Today
A USEFUL FUND
BRITAIN WORRIES
ALL THIS WILL PASS
EEL, LIZARD, SQUIRREL
By Arthur Brisbane
The president's conference and his announcement concerning a $500,000,000 fund is well received by business, and the stock market. The most encouraging part of the program which must be read between the lines is to increase the "flexibility" of the Federal Reserve Board, making it possible for that institution to fulfill its function as intended. The plain English of the matter is that the Federal Reserve can print money, issue it against good security, and thus make credit available for those entitled to it. But with Federal Reserve transactions limited to rediscounting commercial paper, the kind of paper that becomes scarce or disappears in the depression, the Federal Reserve automatically ceases to function when it is most urgently needed. It is the duty of the country and the government to reassure the millions of bank depositors needlessly alarmed as to the safety of their deposits, and make it possible for banks to obtain currency against so-called "frozen assets" that can be sold only at an outrageous sacrifice in such times as these.

FELLOW NAMED MARTIN TOPIC ON MACK TRAIN
These A's, Enroute to St. Louis, Talk a Lot About Him
BUT THEY STILL THINK THEY'LL WIN
Count on George Earnshaw To Pull Them Through Now
BY ALAN GOULD, Associated Press Sports Editor
ENROUTE TO ST. LOUIS WITH ATHLETICS, Oct. 8.—The world champion Athletics sped westward today for the concluding world series drama, looking and acting like anything but a club possibly on the verge of being shorn of its title. They must win the sixth game tomorrow at St. Louis to prolong the fight but they are already talking about the fun they will have with the Cardinals in the seventh and deciding contest. To a man they consider the sixth game and another deadlock theirs for the simple reason they do not see how George Livingston Earnshaw can lose. Strong for Earnshaw
Connie Mack smiles and says "yes, I have a lot of confidence in George." The players think Earnshaw certainly will pitch Friday and if he wins, they regard it likely the famous right-hander will start the seventh game Saturday, with Lefty Grove in reserve both days. "The way I look at it," said Mickey Cochrane, today, "Earnshaw has shown he can over-power the Cards—that all but this Martin. He has shown he can do the job a man must do. He told me yesterday he felt like pitching. He pitched successive games in both the 1929 and 1930 series with only a day in between." Earnshaw is one of the few who doesn't participate in the general hilarity of the world champions en route. Bib George prefers relaxation and quiet conversation to the boisterous exchange of wise-cracks or a poker game. Plenty About Martin
You hear plenty about a young gent named Martin in the back-logs of the world champions. (Continued on Page 4)

COBBLER'S BODY, GUN ARE FOUND AS HOME BURNS
Gasoline Explosion Sends Salineville Firemen to Tragedy Scene
SALINEVILLE, Oct. 8.—Anthony Perronne, 37, cobbler, was found shot to death at 10 p. m. Wednesday after a gasoline explosion and fire had caused $3,500 damage to his home here. An automatic revolver, with two chambers empty, was found near the body of the man who, Columbiana county authorities say, was worried over a $10,000 damage action which had been filed against him as an aftermath of an automobile accident near Highlandtown on August 16. Deputy Sheriff Frank Ballantine said gasoline had been scattered through four rooms of the home, an investigation by Sheriff W. J. Barlow, of Lisbon, Prosecutor John E. Baunkecht of East Palestine and Coroner Ernest R. Sturges of East Liverpool showed. County authorities expressed the opinion that the home was fired before Perronne died. The body, however, was badly burned. Mrs. Perronne in Wellsville
The explosion, fire and shooting occurred during the absence of Mrs. Perronne, who was visiting relatives in Wellsville. The body was found when Salineville firemen answered the fire call. Perronne was named defendant in a damage suit filed August 31 at Lisbon by Charles D. Rice.

Cherry Trees At North Benton Are Reported Budding
Cherry trees on the farm of E. G. Boyles, north of North Benton, which shed their leaves early in the summer, are again taking on a coat of leaves. Mrs. Boyles reports that the budding is unprecedented in her experience. After the cherries were picked the leaves fell from the trees. Now three of the trees are coming out in leaves, have lots of bloom and are full of buds.

These officers will attend the northeast conference in session Thursday and Friday at Warren.

GOODWILL TOUR WELCOMED HERE
Congressman Frank B. Murphy Accompanies E. Liverpool Group
Salem business men and women and students of Salem High school welcomed a delegation of more than 250 East Liverpool business and professional men as they visited the city this afternoon during their third annual good-will tour of Columbiana county. Accompanied by Congressman Frank Murphy of Steubenville and Mayor Ralph C. Benedum, the good-will tourists arrived in Salem at noon and gathered at Reilly stadium for a short program. From Salem they went to Lisbon where a luncheon meeting was held at 12:20. Mayor Welcomes Visitors
R. S. McCulloch, representing the Salem Business Bureau, presided at the short program at the stadium and presented Mayor John M. Davidson who gave a talk, welcoming the visitors. Introduced by Dr. Collin Kinsey, H. G. Means, superintendent of East Liverpool public schools, gave a talk on the athletic relationship between Salem and the Ceramic City and pleaded for a continuation of the scholastic contests, which have been resumed within the past year after a three-year lapse. Atty William H. Vodey, East Liverpool, presented Congressman Murphy following which the tourists continued towards Lisbon. United States Senator Simeon D. Fess of Yellow Springs was unable to accompany the group. School Bands Play
Salem High school students were dismissed by Supt. E. S. Kerr for the occasion. Bands from Salem High and East Liverpool were combined in formations at the stadium for the playing of several selections. The visit was made to Reilly stadium for the purpose of arousing enthusiasm among East Liverpool business men in the construction of a similar athletic plant in that city. The tourists left East Liverpool early this morning with Wellsville as their first stop. Sixteen cities and villages of the county will be included in the tour, which will be closed with a dinner gathering at East Palestine tonight.

CARD TRAIN IS SAVED BY TOWER MAN
(LANCASTER, Pa., Oct. 8.—A Pennsylvania railroad signal tower operator, William Trout, who threw switch and shunted the special train of the St. Louis Cardinals baseball team onto a siding, after an automobile accident blocked the path, was a hero today. Two men were killed in the auto collision and another was in Lancaster hospital today in a critical condition. Less than two minutes before the Cardinals' special passed Leaman Place, where the Lincoln highway crosses the railroad main line between Philadelphia and Harrisburg, the collision occurred. According to police, an automobile driven by Alexander Golden, of New York, sideswiped a car containing the men. Golden's car remained on the bridge while the other plunged through a bridge wall and fell 35 feet to the railroad tracks below on the same track which carried the St. Louis special. P. E. Beane, of Paradise, who heard the crash, called the signal tower. William Trout, operator of the tower, threw the block signal, just as the train came into sight. The engineer of the special slowed down, and Trout threw the switch. The train went past the wreckage on a parallel track. Further on, it was shunted back to the original track. It continued on its journey without stopping.

STOCKS MOVING UP AS CREDIT PLAN PROCEEDS
Virtually All Important Groups Advance In Share Market
By CLAUDE A. JAGGER, Associated Press Financial Editor
NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Security markets moved confidently forward in quiet trading today. Swift progress in the setting up of the huge credit corporation to aid banks appeared already to have removed the chief source of unsettlement. Stocks moved steadily ahead, after a momentary sag in the morning, and the bond market again attracted good investment buying. Virtually all important groups moved forward in the share market, and yesterday's moderate losses were more than regained. Advances of about 3 to 6 points were recorded in such issues as American Telephone, Consolidated Gas, North American, Woolworth, American, Eastman, American Tobacco, "B", Union Pacific, New York Central, and Santa Fe. Gains of 2 or more appeared in U. S. Steel, General Electric, Southern Pacific, Pennsylvania, and others. Brokers reported strong buying was steadily coming into stocks, although there was a tendency to place orders under the market, in the hope of catching temporary setbacks. Several brokers freely expressed the opinion that the bottom had been seen. Salem Township 4-H Gives Program
The Silver Thimble club, 4-H club of Salem township, gave the program at a meeting of Perry grange Wednesday evening at the hall, Franklin rd. Preceding this program Frank Bates gave a talk on "Seed Corn." Homer Williams, county deputy, will conduct the annual inspection on Oct. 21. At that meeting Unity grange will give the lecture hour program.

COUNTY VALUES ARE FIRM, TAX REPORT SHOWS
Actual Loss, Aside From Cash Due from Banks, Is $7,000
TREASURER LITTY ISSUING CHECKS
City Gets $80,278; School District $102,738 In Settlement
LISBON, Oct. 8.—The excellent financial condition of Columbiana county and its tax payers has been revealed by County Treasurer John C. Littty and County Auditor John H. Irwin in the completion of the settlement sheets of the June tax paying period. Records disclose the tax collected during the June period was $1,321,708.74, and the December collection, $1,484,581.88, or a total collection for the fiscal year of 1930 of $2,806,290.62. Actual Loss $7,000
Total tax collection for the two periods of 1929 amounted to $2,844,785.44, indicating a loss of only $37,485.82 for the 1930 collection. There is due from various banks in the county tax amounting to approximately $30,000, the collection of which has been delayed on account of injunction proceedings. Had the county been in a position to have collected the tax owing from the various banks, the loss in collection this year would have been reduced to slightly in excess of only $7,000. In view of the existing financial situation throughout the country, the 1930 total tax collection is considered remarkable. While there are many who have failed to discount their tax charge, the small loss in collections, considering the volume that was written on the record, is pronounced by county officials to be one of the best records attained by any county in the state. Municipal Credits
From the June tax collected, municipal corporations were credited with $270,278.86, with the following distributions: Salem, $80,834.96; East Liverpool, $109,766.96; Rogers, $159.97; New Waterford, $2,811.31; East Palestine, $12,976.83; Wellsville, $3,224.32; Columbiana, $8,208.38; Salineville, $4,573.30; Lisbon, $8,447.68; Washingtonville, $443.18; Leetonia, $8,494.95; Hanoverston, $237.02. School district distribution is as follows: Salem City, $102,783.96; St. Clair, $6,608.55; Middleton, $6,739.44; Yellow Creek, $6,173.76; Madison, $5,945.62; Elkrun, $5,807.42; Fairfield, $20,157.83; Washington, $1,918.60; Wayne, $3,571.43; Center, $5,357.69; Franklin, $2,733.22; Summitville, $1,621.98; Hanover, $5,760.55; Butler, $10,628.24; West, $4,866.37; Knox, $15,017.55; Goshen, $1,576.07; Alliance school district, $360.42; Smith, $258.88; Negley, $407.16; Unity, $3,334.48; East Palestine, $47,372.79; New Waterford, $9,800.63; Wellsville, $57,335.69; Madison No. 1, $2,260.39; Columbiana, $24,096.87; East Liverpool, (Continued on Page 4)

Robinson Urges Extra Session on Hoover Plan
WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—An extra session of congress to deal with President Hoover's credit proposals and other necessary economic legislation was advocated today by Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader. French Financier Sails
PARIS, Oct. 8.—Vice-governor Charles Farnier of the Bank of France sailed for the United States today to confer with the heads of the Federal Reserve bank in New York on the international financial situation. He was accompanied by Robert Lacour-Gayet, director of the bank's economic section. Lauds Credit Plan
COLUMBUS, Oct. 8.—Creation of an emergency credit corporation can be of great value to the public as was the war finance corporation, L. B. Palmer, president of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, said in commenting on President Hoover's proposal. Palmer declared that the "lack of proper credit facilities has made this a more critical period for legitimate business and agricultural enterprise than has been faced in this country for a decade."

Real Estate Plan To Lift Mortgage Burden Proposed
Central Mortgage Rediscount Bank Suggested; Hoover Expects Definite Program by Dec. 2; Bankers' Pool to be Operating Within Week
(WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—President Hoover's plan to ease the financial strain of the nation's banks moved swiftly today toward actual operation. He was informed by Governor Harrison of the New York Federal Reserve bank that the proposed $500,000,000 credit corporation was expected to be incorporated within 48 hours and that details of the completed proposal would be laid before every clearing house and banking group in the country at once. BY RAYMOND CLAPPER, United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—From three to four billions of dollars in cash and credit will start flowing into commercial channels soon under President Hoover's program for bank relief and business revival. Announcement of that program already has inspired business leaders everywhere, press reports today indicated, and in the New York stock market it has boosted security values. The estimate of the cash and credit soon to be released for commercial use, was based on treasury department data. Another step in the campaign to loosen credits was taken by Mr. Hoover late yesterday in a conference at the White House with 10 leading bankers, insurance executives and real estate men. A plan was formulated for a real estate finance program designed to remove some of the existing burdens from the man whose home is mortgaged. Sure of Definite Program
The conferees discussed a proposed central mortgage rediscount bank to be under government supervision. Its purpose would be to finance banks and institutions holding frozen long-term mortgages. Not all of the conferees reached accord on this proposal, but Mr. Hoover feels assured a definite program will be presented to him before his conference on home ownership and home building meets here Dec. 2. It was said authoritatively he is planning to present this program to the new congress for approval. It is estimated on the basis of treasury data that from three to four billions in cash and credit should flow into commercial channels as Mr. Hoover's program to relieve the banking situation becomes effective. The first emergency machinery, the voluntary bankers' pool of $500,000,000 to aid banks overloaded with frozen assets, will be in operation within a week, according to New York bankers in charge. This will enable banks within a few days to take bonds and other high-grade collateral out of their vaults and get real money loans for them with which to meet demands of depositors. Officials here say the effect of this will be to inspire immediate confidence. Bankers will be relieved of worry about meeting heavy withdrawals. Depositors, knowing they can get money on demand, will rest easy. Keystone of Confidence Arch
This move, while handled by bankers independently of the government, is regarded as the keystone of President Hoover's immediate efforts to build up the morale of the nation and restore it to a sane judgment of real values. (Continued on Page 4)

HOOVER FLAYS UNPRODUCTIVE FOREIGN LOANS
Repeats His Warning of 1927 At Pan-American Conference
(WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—President Hoover reached back four years today to reiterate his theory of foreign loans, the following of which, he said, would have smoothed many a bump from the world's economic path. Addressing the fourth pan American commercial conference, the President recalled his plea that foreign loans be made only for "productive purposes," delivered before the same conference in 1927. Then he was secretary of commerce. Repeats His Warning
"I repeat this today," the President said, "because had it been followed during these past five years our problems throughout the world would be far different, our difficulties infinitely less." Expanding upon this idea, Mr. Hoover said he believed this constituted "a lesson from this depression." He repeated part of his four-year-old address which said that "if nations would do away with the lending of money for the balance of budgets for purposes of military equipment or war purposes, or even that type of public works which does not bring some direct or indirect productive return—a great number of blessings would follow to the entire world." Turning to present day affairs, Mr. Hoover told the pan American delegates that the American theory of government required that commercial enterprise, except as a rare emergency undertaking, be essentially a private undertaking. War Prevention Step
"There could be no greater step taken in the prevention of war than (Continued on Page 6)

The banquet of the Eastern Ohio association will be held at 6:30 p. m. at Welcome Inn, Lloydsville. The program for the celebration is being arranged by the Belmont County Motor club in conjunction with the state highway department. Quite a Fellow
EL PASO, Texas, Oct. 8.—News can travel when it's of real interest to the people among whom it travels. I had not heard a thing for eight days; no word series; no word from Al Capone; didn't know Wall Street had shook small klinkers out. Another conference was held but the only real thing of future importance that had happened in the eight days was Dwight Morrow's death, and I heard that in the heart of Mexico (and from the heart of Mexico I am sorry Mr. Hoover was too busy to attend the funeral). This fellow Morrow was quite a fellow. Yours, Will Rogers

ANCHOR TO WINDWARD

Uncertainty is causing more misery among people who are aware of the depression than actual suffering is causing. Most of them have not been harmed yet, but they are afraid of what may happen.

They have needed an anchor to windward to give them assurance that everything will be all right. Many of them will find it in the six-point program for restoration of financial confidence announced by President Hoover Wednesday.

The most important point is that recommending creation of a half-billion dollar private credit agency to handle bank credits unacceptable to Federal Reserve banks. This is a bankers' method of solving a bankers' problem. It need not wait on legislative approval to become effective.

The procedure is simple. The credit agency will exchange cash for the assets of banks which need cash acutely. It will, in short, furnish reasonable liquidity — which could have saved more than one bank from closing.

Creation of the agency, which seems assured, would be an act of enlightened selfishness on the part of powerful banking interest. They have the money; the problem is to get it where it will do some good.

This main point of the program is supplemented by four other points. They recommend liquidation of some of the frozen assets of insolvent banks to pay off depositors, appointment of regional bankers' committees to aid in the whole program of credit expansion liberalization of federal reserve discount restrictions to permit acceptance of certain securities not now eligible, and strengthening resources of the Federal Land banks further to accommodate farmers.

The remaining point suggests the possibility of creating a governmental credit agency similar to the war finance corporation, which was organized as an emergency agency in 1928. This is to be done only if necessary. It is the government's ace-in-the-hole.

Intelligent Americans do not expect the depression to be dispelled without an ordeal of slow adjustments. They do not expect, therefore, that the new national program for restoration of financial confidence will do more than relieve uncertainty to some extent and release idle cash for buying purposes. The results will be invaluable, but they will not be curative. They will represent the difference between a palliative and a panacea.

THE "LEX BRUENING."

The story of Germany in these troublous times is the story of Chancellor Heinrich Bruening, its philosopher-chancellor, who is holding its government together. Chancellor Bruening's cabinet resigned Wednesday, in accordance with expectations and a rigid dictatorial regime established. Germany is to have another liberal dose of the strong medicine called in some quarters "Lex Bruening"—the name given the decrees by which Herr Bruening sustains the government. Basic constitutional rights will mean little or nothing until the crisis is past.

That is why Germany's story is its chancellor's story. Herr Bruening, despite his dictatorial decrees, which have a shocking sound in the United States, is following the only course open to him. German politics are in a chaotic state, with Communism and Fascism stalking the government boldly waiting for their opportunity to make the kill. Demands on the government follow so fast upon one another that the inevitable delays of legislative action would be fatal. Government by decree is the only answer.

Herr Bruening is more of a scholar than a politician, but he is a remarkable combination of both. He could not be a demagogue if he wished, because philosophy has rounded out his character too fully. He is sort of a political ascetic whose power is derived from the public's recognition of him as possessor of a remarkable intellect and extraordinary will-power. There has been no chancellor since the great Bismarck who has commanded so much attention, which is more in the nature of praise when the extreme difficulties confronting Herr Bruening are recognized.

What Others Say

LENGTH OF LIFE IN THIS COUNTRY

If we are to accept the authority of the census bureau, the average length of life is increasing in the United States. In a report just given out it is stated that there are fewer youngsters and more persons of 45 and over than were counted 10 years ago. The population of the nation estimated at 122,775,046. No less than 72,943,624 are "21 or over," as compared with 60,886,520 in 1920. It is interesting to note the increase in the number of older persons. For instance, we have 13,018,083 who range from 45 to 54; over eight million from 65 to 74 and 1,913,196 of 75 and over. It is not uncommon to hear of men over 80 who are still "in harness."

The census bureau does not attempt to explain this along scientific lines. We are told that a considerable number of those who have passed the age of 65 are either retired farmers or other persons who have gone to country villages to spend the remaining years of their lives. If they can find "quiet retreats" they are very fortunate. "The average American of today finds himself living amid a constant din and racket. Many of our people may get nervous prostration; but most of them manage to linger on in spite of the noise, if we are to believe the official figures. How are we to account for the increased number of old men and women? For one thing we are living in a more healthful age. Proper sanitation is now looked upon as a duty of the state, and as a consequence we have fewer epidemics than in older times.

One suggestion, probably made in a factious spirit, is that more persons now pass the three score year and ten line because of the gradual growth of the old age pension system. But there may be a modicum of truth in the notion. The man or woman who can look forward to spending his declining years beneath his own vine and fig tree without the fear of want may acquire that habit of tranquility which often increases the average span of life—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Catarrhal Deafness May Be Overcome

If you have catarrhal deafness or head noises go to Lease Drug Co., and Broadway Lease Drug Store, or your druggist and get 1 oz. of Par-mint (double strength) and add to it 1/4 pint of hot water and a little sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucous stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has catarrhal deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Nut apartments, sponsored by playboys, are adding a spice of gaiety to life's tedium to inspire these days. They are floored up with all sorts of comical devices to inspire laughs and restore some of the jollity of the good old past.

Thus an invited guest may push the door buzzer upon arriving and receive a squirt of water in the face. A stage type of solemn butler will take the guest's hat, suddenly drop it to the floor and then swiftly kick it to one side.

At one I visited the other evening I was asked if I would wait a few moments in the reception hall. A little later the butler returned and reported that the host did not care to see me. In utter confusion I turned to go and was told the elevator has stopped running.

I was shown the stairway and walked down two flights when a policeman in uniform popped out and sneered: "Up to your old tricks, eh?" I explained in frightened falsetto the elevator was not working and that I was on my way to the street level.

"You can tell that at the station house," he snarled. "We have caught you at your old game—sneak thieving." I suppose my ghastly pallor kept him from going further for he whistled and a crowd rushed from around the corner and we waited the next victim.

One apartment near Beekman Place has a dining room with chairs that give out electric shocks from hidden levers controlled by the host. He touches them when a spoonful of soup is half way raised to the mouth and such fun!

Another talked about nut party was a "musical" in a 57th street apartment. The entertainer was a pseudo Polish pianist. He ordered the lights dimmed, demanded perfect silence and skyrocketed other bursts of temperament. Then he sat down and played chop sticks.

In about a month the George Washington Memorial Bridge opens for traffic, and to my notion is New York's greatest wonder. The Empire, as an architectural feat, pales in to significance beside the mile and a half span stretching from upper Riverside Drive to the Jersey palisades. Brooklyn Bridge is only half as long. It required fourteen years to build Brooklyn Bridge and four years for this Hudson structure. The bridge is especially beautiful in that purple glow that hazes the palisades at dusk. Flocks of painters are there daily to imprison the sheer grandeur on canvas. It is estimated 30,000,000 automobiles will cross it yearly.

A lady and her husband who have lived at Forest Hills, L. I., for nine years never played or saw a professional game of tennis. This suburb, 20 minutes from New York, is one of the biggest tennis centers in America. On the other hand I am told of a man who saw his first tennis at Forest Hills this summer—a game between Mrs. Moody and an English player. He now plays daily and has a night court on the roof of his home. Incidentally, he gave up years of prodigious golf for his newer diversion.

I know little of tennis, save that professionally played it is richly exciting, but I believe it has suffered from its sissified game calls, such as "Love-Fifteen," "Love-All," "Fault" and "Advantage."

Writes Zoyola R.—and what a pretty name. "I was at a theater recently when Lou Holz introduced you from the stage. You popped up like a Jack-in-the-box for a quick bow only. Why didn't you stand in the aisle so we could see you full length?"

That was the evening I forgot and left home without my trousers.

The Stars Say—

For Friday, Oct. 9

This day may be notable for the setting aside of many obstructions and tenaciously frustrating circumstances, judging by the excellent change of lunar transits supporting the trine of Moon to Saturn. These betoken solid achievements, backed up by accumulations of real possessions, with stable position and responsibility, born of individual merit and industry. The solar figure with Mars spurs to this vigorous initiative and winning aggressiveness. It is a time for pushing.

Those whose birthday it is will find it a year of fine initiative and forging ahead with vigor and resolution reaching for desired goals. There may be much personal recognition for merit and application, manifesting in stabilized fortunes, solid position and real possessions of worth. A child born on this day should be enterprising, practical, constructive and diligent in many lines, and should attain worthwhile position and possessions through its own work and capacity.

Notable nativity: Helen Hayes, actress.

Electricity And Bathing

It is almost a daily experience to read of a sudden death, perhaps of one who has been electrocuted in the bathtub. The number of deaths from electricity every year runs well up into the thousands in North America. A committee created by the American Society of Safety Engineers has been organized to study this problem. These men have carefully investigated the cases that have been reported. They found that out of one hundred such accidents 31 occurred in the bath room.

Most of these occurred when the individual, whose body was wet, attempted to turn on an electric light. In this way he received an electric shock. Usually the power was 110 volts, but in many cases an even lower voltage was sufficient to cause instantaneous death.

Standing in water the victim reaches for an electric switch or fixture. As a result of some defect, the contact made is sufficient to send the current through the body.

Heart Is Damaged

The electric current has such intensity as to shock the heart, so that its muscles are damaged. The muscles of the heart are sent into rapid vibration, preventing that organ from contracting and expanding.

When the skin is dry and only a small area of the body comes in contact with the low voltage wire, nothing of a serious nature can happen. It is only when the skin is wet, or if there is an open or moist cut or abrasion of the skin that the electricity will do harm.

Everybody should be warned to avoid any contact with electric wires or fixtures under these conditions. Please remember, when taking a bath not to touch the light switch.

Another common danger is that attaching to portable electric heaters, curling irons or heating pads which are kept in the bathroom. It is exceedingly easy for one to electrocute himself by handling any of these appliances while in the bath tub or while the body is moist. Under such circumstances these con-

Milady Lightning on Wheels

To those of us who have had the experience of waiting a couple of hours for a member of the fair sex with whom we've had an appointment, there is some satisfaction in the knowledge that there is at least one woman who'll always be on time for her dates. She is Mrs. Gwenda Stewart, and her hobby is speed. Recently Mrs. Stewart set a world's record for small cars with the astounding speed of 109.13 miles an hour, at the Montlhery Track, near Paris, France. She is shown above in her specially streamlined bantam car after her creditable feat.

trivances are dangerous. They should be used only when the body is well clothed and dry.

Accidents may be caused, too, by handling other electric appliances while the hands are moist. While washing dishes, a housewife may receive a severe shock when reaching up with wet hands to adjust an electric fixture.

During warm weather, when the hands are moist as a result of extensive perspiration, it is dangerous to handle an electric fan or vacuum cleaner. Contact under such conditions may result in a severe shock.

There is no doubt there has been too much negligence in the handling of electrical appliances in the household. It is hoped that more right care and supervision of these appliances, both by the manufacturers as well as by the users will eliminate the number of deaths from electric currents.

A little care and forethought will prevent many unnecessary accidents. Warn your family against these dangers. Be warned yourself.

Answers to Health Queries

J. P. W. Q.—Is buttermilk fattening? It seems to agree with me where the sweet milk does not. I drink about one and a half quarts of buttermilk daily. Is it harmful in the case of a patient who is suffering from kidney trouble?

A.—No, since the butter fat has been taken out. If it agrees with you there would seem to be no reason to discontinue its use.

2.—Not unless cream is added. A. B. C. Q.—Of what benefit are oranges? Are they beneficial to the system? What foods are apt to produce an acid condition?

A.—Oranges are rich in vitamins and valuable salts. Yes, the vitamin content is of general benefit to the system and body. Excessive sugars and some fruits are acid-forming, but each system is different and must be studied and treated accordingly. For further particulars send a self-addressed stamped envelope and repeat your question.

Mrs. A. C. Z. Q.—What do you advise for falling hair?

A.—Brush the hair daily and use a good tonic. Send self-addressed, stamped envelope for full particulars and repeat your question.

AMERICAN FORK, Utah.—A dog curfew has been invoked in this little Utah town. Every canine found on the streets between 7 p. m. and 6 a. m. runs the risk of being shot on sight. The measure was taken after a nocturnal raid on a corral, in which 50 sheep were killed or maimed.

Serving Dried Fruit

"How can I get my family to eat more dried fruit?" asks a housekeeper. "Fresh fruits are growing scarcer now, and prunes and other dried fruits are not so popular as a steady diet."

Instead of serving plain stewed fruit for breakfast, it is sometimes the better method to dress it up as a dinner desert. All sorts of expedients are desirable to encourage the consumption of dried fruit when the fresh variety is too expensive or unavailable. A generous amount of fruit is essential to health and in many families there's a sharp drop as soon as the fresh fruit season wanes. Fruit seems to disappear entirely from the menu—everything with the possible exception of apples and oranges.

If dried fruit is encouraged, there need be no dearth of variety. Dried peaches, apricots, plums, figs, dates, raisins, are always available, and some are so choice that they can be eaten dry without cooking. True, plain stewed fruit does grow tedious if it is served too often. It can be jazzed up a bit by the addition of other flavoring—ginger, walnut, almond, pecan meats, and of course many persons will eat the same food indefinitely if only it's dressed up with plenty of whipped cream.

But an excellent dessert, easily made and which will turn even the overdone prune into a popular dish is Upside-down cake. This can be made of the dried fruits. Soak them overnight, cook until tender in the morning, then prepare as follows:

Apricot Upside-Down Cake

Melt 3 tablespoons of butter in an iron skillet, and spread over this ½ cup of brown sugar, well broken so that it spreads evenly, and without any lumps. Over this mixture place 2 cupfuls of cooked, drained apricots. The fruit should be in neat halves, not broken up to a pulpy state by too long cooking. Then spread on top the following mixture:

1 egg.
½ cup white sugar.
¼ cup milk.
1 cup flour.
1 teaspoon baking powder.
¾ teaspoon salt.
1 teaspoon vanilla.
1 tablespoon melted butter.

Beat egg, then add sugar and continue beating until smooth. Sift together the dry ingredients and add a little to the egg and sugar mixture, then add milk, alternating until both are used up. Last add vanilla and melted butter. Bake in a moderate oven for half an hour. Serve with hard sauce or whipped cream.

Hard Sauce

¼ cup butter.
¾ cup confectioner's sugar.
¼ teaspoon salt.
1 teaspoon almond or vanilla or lemon juice flavoring.
Mix together until smooth and place in refrigerator until ready to serve.

If desired, the sauce of the stewed fruit may be used instead of milk in preparing the batter. In which case more eggs are necessary. Instead of ¼ cup of milk and 1 egg, the ingredients would be ½ cup fruit juice and 3 eggs. Amount of sugar, too will be varied depending on the sweetness of the fruit juice. Such fruits as prunes and apricots, cooked without sugar may require more sugar for the batter. Figs and dates, having a higher natural sugar content will require less.

MORTGAGE PLAN IS SUGGESTED

Hoover Expects to Have Definite Program by December 2

Government officials expressed gratification today at the response of bankers to the plan.

It was learned the treasury may recommend to congress a plan whereby federal reserve banks may aid defunct institutions by taking out sound assets and advancing cash which could be distributed to depositors.

While there was much discussion among senators and congressmen regarding Mr. Hoover's proposal for extension of the German moratorium, the matter will not become pressing until the visit of Premier Laval here later this month. At that time, Mr. Hoover has indicated, he will discuss plans for further suspension of reparations and war debt payments.

They happen in this case to be all important.

Glass To Call Committee
Senator Carter Glass, Democrat, Virginia, will call his sub-committee of the senate banking and currency committee together in about one month to frame legislation. The Hoover program asked congress to liberalize the federal reserve act, appropriate additional capital to the farm land banks to aid agriculture, and, if necessary, to create a government corporation similar to the war finance corporation to assist banks in trouble.

Mack's shake-up of his lineup in the fifth game with McNair replacing Bishop at second, Jim Moore going to the outfield in place of Haas was believed merely a one-day emergency measure designed to break Wild Bill Hallahan's defense.

Returned to Ohio

BOSTON, Oct. 8.—Francis Parmine, 21, Newark, O., has been ordered returned to Ohio to serve a term at the federal reform school at Chillicothe, after failing to report to a probation officer at Columbus, O., following being put on probation here on a charge of larceny.

ST. CATHERINES, Ont. — The General Motor Company's plant here recently employed 200 additional men, needed for the manufacture of automobile parts previously made in the United States. Manufacture of the parts was shifted here because of the new Canadian tariff laws.

WE'RE specialists in mass buying and low operating costs. When we added these to present record, low material costs we set "One Dollar Bill" up on his feet again. Weak and puny in 1929 he's his old self now! He can do a job today, in any J. C. Penney Store that it would have taken a dollar and fifty-four cents to do a year and a half ago.

While smaller businesses buy many articles from jobbers, we, in every case, go directly to the manufacturer—and in many cases even to the source of raw material supply itself. This means—

We Buy for Less — and We Sell for Less, too!

THEATER Attractions

"MONKEY BUSINESS" starring the four Marx brothers, plays for the last times today at the State theater. It tells of four stowaways on an ocean liner who turn things about until they are taking the place of the captain, entertaining those on ship and rescuing the heroine. A real laugh riot.

"WICKED" starring Elissa Landi is the Grand's feature today. Victor McLaglen plays opposite the star. She plays the role of a young wife who finds that her husband has deceived her and he is not a bank clerk but a robber. Miss Landi is splendid.

COMING ATTRACTIONS include "Personal Maid" at the State and "I Like Your Nerve" at the Grand, both appearing Friday and Saturday.

"Personal Maid," starring Nancy Carroll tells the intimate story of a young girl, transported from an East Side tenement home to a ritzy New York apartment. It deals with what she sees and hears in the world of wealth, loose morals, high living, and what effect it has on her character.

Eventually she tries "being a lady" herself, and, with a personal maid of her own, cavorts at a fashionable Florida resort. But her masquerade exposed, she is swept back to the servants' hall, only to be swept out again into a ritzy apartment of her own, with a personal maid and a husband.

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., who is starred in "I Like Your Nerve" with Loretta Young as the lead, has never appeared to better advantage.

Briefly it is the brisk recital of the adventures that befall a wealthy young American who gets kicked out of one Central American country after another—due to his disregard for the laws that forbid fast motoring—and who finally becomes involved in a near-revolution, an ardent love affair, a kidnapping of the girl of his choice self. This is perhaps a little further toward the millennium than our practical world has reached, and I do not propose that these are matters that can be regulated by law or treaty. They are matters that can be regulated solely by the commercial and financial statement of each of our countries; and if this body may be able to develop the firm conviction develop the understanding that the financial transactions between nations must be built upon the primary foundation that money transferred is for productive purposes, it will have marked the future of the western hemisphere in a degree seldom open to a conference of this character."

Appeal Rejected In Damascus Case

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 8. — The Ohio supreme court today rejected the appeal of W. J. West and A. G. West, doing business as West Brothers, and operating the Damascus nurseries at Damascus, from the decree of the Columbiana county courts which favored Nancy and Sayre, Inc., of Geneva, N. Y.

The Geneva concern obtained a judgment in the common pleas court in a suit based upon a $260 note, given by West brothers in connection with the purchase of nursery stock, and also, upon a $284 open account against the Wests who had refused payment on the ground that the nursery stock was defective.

Budding Pianist

An addition was made to the film colony at Hollywood just six and a half months ago, but the new star was not photographed with her proud parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nils Asther, until her mother, the former Vivian Duncan, of the famous Duncan sisters, brought the "wonder baby" to the movie capital. Little Evelyn Asther is evidently going to be a great big success at the piano from early indications.

Salaries Decreased

CINCINNATI, Oct. 8.—All salaries, including those of executives, will be reduced from 10 to 15 per cent by the Procter and Gamble company effective Oct. 15. William Cooper Procter, chairman of the board, in announcing the adjustments, said wages will be cut about 10 per cent at the same time.

can see the end. They are, fortunately, as yet mainly commercial; and if we are only to lose money, and by painful poverty to be taught wisdom—the wisdom of honor, of faith, of sympathy and of charity—no man need seriously despair. And yet the very haste to be rich, which is the occasion of this wide-spread calamity, has also tended to destroy the moral forces with which we are to resist and subdue the calamity."

It may comfort you a little, perhaps, persuade you that the end of the world has not yet come, to learn that what you read above was published in Harper's Weekly on Oct. 10, 1857, 74 years ago.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 8. — Solly Hart, one of Cleveland's most prominent "public enemies" carried a loaded pistol when arrested five years ago, three policemen testified at his trial in court. ## Give Score In Court

CLEVELAND, Oct. 8.—Enthusiastic applause brought only a smile from Common Pleas Judge W. P. Stephenson, assigned here from West Union, O., instead of the usual rebuke, after he halted criminal proceedings and went into a huddle with his bailiff yesterday. "The court announces," he said, "the score in the seventh inning is Cards 3, Athletics 1."

CLEVELAND.—The body of a bald eagle, found by Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Lowther, Cleveland, on Route 20, near Wakeman, O., was believed by observers to have been killed by a tri-motored airplane flying between Cleveland and Toledo. The bird had a wing spread of seven feet.

Series Develops Into 'One Man Show' With Martin As Star

THE DAY In Sports THE STUFF IT TAKES

THE CARDINAL center fielder, John "Pepper" Martin, has a clear title to hero of the 1931 world series. If the Cardinals with the pennant for St. Louis his picture should be on it somewhere.

In Wednesday's game he reached a hitting climax with a home run, scoring second baseman Frisch ahead of him. If the series should happen to go to two more games his hitting record should stand until the last baseball diamond has been made into a cabbage patch.

Martin has the stuff it takes to make a great baseball player and to make baseball a great game. Until Cather Cochran pegged him out on his attempted steal to second Wednesday he literally had the Indian sign on that extremely capable player when he wanted to gain a base—or rather he had one Indian sign on him. The other one was strapped on the Athletic pitcher, whoever he happened to be.

Baseball players like Pepper Martin are good for the game. They give it the same extra savor that real pepper gives, say, home fired potatoes.

Cardinal Outfielder Leads Team to Third Victory Over Macks

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer.
ABOARD THE CARDINALS' Special Train Enroute to St. Louis, Oct. 8.—The one man show that is the world series of 1931 moved westward today, into the land of the St. Louis Cardinals, practically the personal property of John Leonard "Pepper" Martin.

Never in all world series history, not even in the heyday of baseball's immortal Babe Ruth has a single individual so taken unto his own eager irrepresible as a drama of the magnitude of this world series struggle of the Philadelphia Athletics and the Red Birds from the banks of the Mississippi.

Cardinals Lead, 3-2
Five games have flowed under the baseball bridges since the world champion Athletics tangled for the first time with the National league champions. Today, as the series speeds westward, the Cardinals lead three to two in games and restlessly waiting to administer the coup de grace is this same "Pepper" Martin, just about the cause of it all.

There has been pitching by Big George Earnshaw that for studied, painstaking brilliance has never been surpassed. The great warrior of the game, snarling, bitter, uncompromising Burleigh Grimes buried another two hit masterpiece. And Wild Bill Hallahan, a superb little left hander, round of face and frail of body, twice has conquered the champions of the world, once without a run, allowing only three hits and again yesterday, 5 to 1.

These are prodigious world series feats and more amazing they came in succession. Yet the wonder of them fades and all the glory that would be theirs alone if it were not for this same Pepper Martin.

Wins Two Singlehanded
Singlehanded he has won two of the Cardinals three games. In the first game, when Lefty Grove pitched a loose victory, he hit safely three times, drove in one run and scored the other. Personally he beat George Earnshaw in the second game, hitting safely twice, running bases madly, scoring twice. When the Cardinals were trouncing Grove in the third game, he led the way again with two hits. In Earnshaw's great two-hit victory. It was Pepper who got them both.

But yesterday, with the series deadlocked at two games all, the pressure on full, the Athletics hitting and fighting mad, tremendous advantage of virtual elimination hanging on victory or defeat, this wild wahoo came into his absolute own.

Instead of weakening, resting on the laurels already won, all Pepper did was beat out a bump, drill a single into left and hit the home run that smashed the gallant comeback of Waite Hoyt. Moved up to the cleanup position, Pepper drove in four runs. He had no part in the making of the fifth, probably because he didn't happen to come to bat.

SERIES WINNERS TO GET $4,484

Cleveland Indians Share $8,007 from Proceeds Of World Play-Off
(By Associated Press)
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—Each winning player will receive $4,484.24 and each loser $2,989.49 as his share of the 1931 world series pool, if it is split 30 ways.

The Cardinals have already decided to cut their series "melon" on this basis but the Athletics may have fewer slices, thereby making each player's share larger.

The players' pool, derived from a big portion of gate receipts from the first four games only, amounts to $320,303.46. It is the smallest since 1922. The series rivals split 70 per cent of this on a 60-40 basis. The other 30 per cent goes to the clubs finishing second, third and fourth in each major league.

The clubs split $96,091 as follows: $24,022.75 to each of the second place teams, New York Giants and Yankees; $16,015.17 each to third place teams, Washington Senators and Chicago Cubs; $8,007.58 each to fourth place outfits, Brooklyn and Cleveland.

French, Early Both Declared Ineligible

Neither John French nor Norman Early, Salem High varsity gridgers, will be in the lineup when the Quaker football team clashes with Warren High at Warren Friday night.

Both have been declared ineligible because of scholastic difficulties and will not be back in uniform until next week at the earliest, school officials said today.

Meanwhile Coaches Floyd Stone and Frank Lewis are working hard towards the development of new offensive and defensive combinations with hopes of winning a fourth straight victory over Warren.

A surprise and smarting defeat at the hands of Bowling Green has spurred the Thorpe camp to snappy workouts this week. The fact that Grimes and Swope will be back on the starting line inspires Mounts hopes for a victory from the New Concordites.

Two bands will be out to furnish pep and old grads on sidelines.

34 Ohio College Teams Clash on Gridiron Friday, Saturday

Sam Willaman's Buckeyes Slight Favorites To Defeat Vanderbilt

(By United Press)
Ohio's football war dogs were crouched today, ready to spring into the thick of another ominous season.

Thirty-four Ohio college teams will participate in games Friday and Saturday. The Buckeye and Northwestern conferences will open their official campaigns and six Ohio conference contests will be played.

Ohio State Favored
A comparison between Southern and Western conference football will be afforded Saturday at Columbus where Ohio State meets Vanderbilt, of Nashville, Tenn. The Buckeyes are favored to win by a small margin.

Ohio university is expected to win handily from Denison in their tilt at Granville Saturday, opening the Buckeye season. Ohio Wesleyan will be the under-dog in its game with Syracuse in the East.

Wabash and DePauw, the Indiana members of the Buckeye, will invade Ohio soil, playing Miami and Cincinnati, respectively. The Ohio teams are slight favorites, although Wabash has a reputedly strong team.

Two Kentucky teams will cross the Ohio river for games on Friday night. Wittenberg is favored to win from Centre at Springfield, and Xavier is expected to beat Georgetown at Cincinnati.

Muskingum Meets Mount
Little excitement is expected within the Ohio conference this week. On Friday night, Muskingum will meet Mount Union at Alliance, and Kenyon will play at Ashland. Supporters of Muskingum and Ashland will have to give odds.

On Saturday, Otterbein will meet Heidelberg in a Dad's day attraction at Tiffin; Kent State will play at Akron; Baldwin-Wallace will play at Hiram; and Capital will play at Marietta. The favored teams are Heidelberg, Akron, Baldwin-Wallace and Marietta.

The strong Hillsdale, Mich., eleven will visit Oberlin Saturday and is expected to carry its third straight victory back to Michigan. Ohio Northern will go out of the state for the second time, playing East Kentucky State at Richmond, Ky.

Case and John Carroll will clash for city honors in Cleveland's Lake Front stadium Saturday. Carroll appears the stronger. Dayton is expected to have little trouble subduing Wilmington on the Dayton gridiron, Friday night.

Urbana will play at Rio Grande Saturday, with the latter expected to win. The Ohio State reserves will play Michigan State normal college at Ypsilanti, Mich., Saturday. The Michigan school is expected to win.

BUCKEYES FACE VANDERBILT 11

Baumgarten Will Replace Rosequist; Ohio State Looks Strong

(By International News Service)
COLUMBUS, Oct. 8.—The Vanderbilt Commodores may have heaved a deep sigh of thankfulness when they heard that Ted Rosequist, giant Ohio State tackle, would not be in the coming game Saturday, but from all indications they will meet another giant, in the form of Gene Baumgarten, six foot four inch Kentuckian, who is nearly as big, and almost as bonecrushing as Ted.

Gene started out last season in a blaze of glory and won a regular tackle berth on the varsity. But "Big Bill" Bell came along and took the position away from him. Toward the end of the season, however, Baumgarten was back in his old position, due mainly to his ever-present fight and scintillating performances.

Baumgarten played tackle in yesterday's practice sessions at the stadium against the freshman squad, and his tearing and battering is a taste of what he is going to do Saturday, the Commodores are going to have their hands, and arms, full—in one position, at least.

Yesterday's drill was a replica of Tuesday's session. The varsity was faced by a freshman squad which tried every known Vanderbilt play against them. And, as happened Tuesday, the varsity tore the freshmen to shreds and scored almost at will.

The starting line-up of the Buckeyes is expected to be the same this week, with the exception of Baumgarten at tackle, as the one that blasted Cincinnati last week.

STAGG MAY SURPRISE MICHIGAN; DEVELOPS "MYSTERY" OFFENSE

Northwestern Star Out For Season; Illinois To Meet Purdue

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—Coach Amos Alonzo Stagg's fortieth University of Chicago football team is not rated as capable of defeating Michigan's powerful eleven when they renew their rivalry for the twentieth time Saturday, but the "old man" is figuring on giving the Wolverines a surprisingly tough afternoon.

Develops New Offense
Stagg has just about enough men for one team with a few left over, and he is teaching his tiny squad a new offense—a system far different from anything a maroon eleven ever has used. What it accomplishes against Michigan depends largely upon whether Pat Page, Jr., and Lou Kanne, a pair of regular backs, are eligible.

Chicago's "mystery" offense, however, has done nothing to make the Wolverines less than a huge favorite. Coach Harry Kipke has a veteran line, well fixed for reserves, and his sophomore backs have done so well that lettermen will be sitting on the bench when the contest starts in Michigan's huge stadium.

Russell Out For Season
Northwestern suffered a cruel jolt to its hopes of ending Notre Dame's reign, when Rob Russell, the fullback who battered the Irish line for important yardage last year, was declared out of action yesterday. Russell suffered a cracked vertebra and a rib fracture against Nebraska and probably will play no more this season. Coach Dick Hanley moved Ollie Olson, a sophomore, to full and his starting backfield when the Irish are met in Soldier field Saturday, will include only one veteran, Halfback Pug Rentner. George Potter, and Ken Meenan, another pair of sophomores, will be the other starters.

Reports from Notre Dame's secret practices indicate that things are not so well with the Raiders. The reserves used Northwestern plays yesterday and shoved over three touchdowns against the varsity. Coach Hunk Anderson was disgusted and said in so many words that Notre Dame looked like a sure shot to take a beating.

Illinois-Purdue Clash
Illinois and Purdue, which will meet in the other Big Ten opener, are about ready. The Illini lost Bill Charlie, a good forward passer, when he suffered a collarbone fracture yesterday, but the rest of the squad is in good shape. The boilermakers held a scrimmage yesterday and the boys took it so seriously that Coach Noble Kizer had to break up a couple of fist fights.

Ohio is still seeking replacements for injured linemen by the time Vanderbilt is met at Columbus, and Wisconsin is busy working up some new forward pass stuff to fire at Alabama poly.

Minnesota's board of strategy also is hunting for line replacements to use against Stanford Saturday.

PLAYING WITH FIRE

BY WILLIAM
MCLEOD RAINE

SYNOPSIS.

Lee Reynolds is the owner of a ranch which drought has almost ruined. She leases a Mexican rancho and moves her starving herd there. She is barely settled when a revolution breaks out. Megares, a former foreman of Lee's, is his right hand man. Brennan is discharged by Lee and sworn revenge. Lee hires a new hand, who is recognized by Dunc Daggett, an old ranch hand, as Jack Hadley, a millionaire oil man of California, whose father owned a mine near Lee's ranch and was murdered by outlaws. Hadley is searching for the murderer of his father. Hadley and Lee call on Megares, who is, apparently, friendly to them. Megares calls at the ranch for dinner and is introduced with Lee's sister, Doris Silver. Next day while out driving Lee and her ranchers are attacked by a band of soldiers. Megares comes to live at the rancho.

OUT OF A CLEAR SKY.
Brennan's eyes jerked at Lee. "Who do you reckon the scalawags were that killed Scalp?" "I don't know. Outlaws, I suppose." As she looked at him, the suggestion he had offered grew in her mind. "Do you mean that Megares?" "Figure it out for yourself. If he wanted to move in wouldn't he want to give a good excuse? And what could be a better one than that it wasn't safe for you all to stay here without him to protect you?" "Is there anything I can do about it? We're helpless here—prisoners. He's out in the patio now forcing his attentions upon Doris," Lee said.

"Does he have to force them on her?" he demanded. "The little fool hasn't got any more sense than to flirt with him. Why, a baby might just as well play with a tiger." It was true that Doris flirted with Megares. She was afraid of him and yet was fascinated by the very danger of such a relationship. Lee was not sure that she agreed with Brennan as to the folly of her friend's course. For Doris to turn her back upon the bandit general would be to raise an instant issue. Was it not better with such a man to play for time, to lead him on with vague hints that quickened hope of a surrender due to his personal charms?

Hadley was at the piano playing soft music. "Shall we go into the patio?" she asked. The young man rose. There was a tacit understanding that when possible Megares must not be left alone with Doris too long.

Hadley rattled the handle of the door and opened it. He followed Lee to the porch. Megares confronted them angrily. "What do you want?" he demanded. Doris was standing in the shadows back of him. Her eyes flashed gratitude to Lee. Her eyes flashed to the demands of the situation. "If we only knew, general. We think we want one thing and all the time it is something else. Tonight, in the patio here with the fountain splashing and such a moon. I'm almost convinced I want romance. But who knows? Probably if I had it I'd be wondering what the quotation is today for beef in Kansas City."

Slowly the Mexican relaxed. He had been prepared to issue an order, but the girl's persiflage took the wind out of his sails. He suspected she had come out to interrupt his lovemaking but he was not convinced of it. "You have a saying, you Yankees, that three makes a crowd," he told her. "A moon looms its luster when it looks down on more than two. A man, a maid and a moon. That is a perfect combination. Try it, my dear hostess. Surely Mr. Hadley could be persuaded to play Romeo to so charming a Juliet."

A warm color beat through the tan of Lee's cheeks. She knew she was blushing and was grateful for the dim light of night.

"Mr. Hadley has not your Latin temperament, general. He probably couldn't be persuaded that the world would be well lost for love." "Come, Mr. Hadley," the Mexican said, "are you one of those prosaic Yankee business men who find the romance of life in the price of pork?"

"Not quite, general," he said carelessly. "But Romeo is a little out of my line. Mercutio always seemed to me a better bet."

Doris tilted a mocking smile of reminder at Hadley. She moved with supple grace into the house. Inside the lighted room Doris turned to Lee, all animation. "What do you think, dear? Gen. Megares has brought our mail out from Palo Duro, where it has been lying ever since the war began. Where is it, general?"

Megares turned to Brennan. "Will you get my brief bag, colonel?" Brennan looked as though he would like to tell him to go to the devil but he contented himself with the ugly glare of resentment. Reluctantly he walked out of the room.

It was true that Doris flirted with Megares.

Presently he returned with a bag stuffed with letters and magazines. Megares distributed them.

One of the letters was addressed to John T. Smith. The Mexican looked at the address and grinned. "Have you a vaquero by that name, Miss Reynolds?" he asked. He handed her the letter and she flipped it over to Hadley. Jack ripped open the envelope and ran his eye through the contents.

Deep in one of her letters, Doris gave a little cry of surprise. "Harold is coming west. Why, he must be here now—in Arizona, I mean." Megares brushed his mustache with finger tips. The mocking smile was scarcely concealed. "So near and yet so far," he murmured.

"But I must meet him," Doris said. "Can't you arrange it, general? If we could get a pass to cross the line!"

"Impossible. The troubled state of the country—roving bands of outlaws. I couldn't consider it."

"I want to see my husband," Doris said wistfully.

The eyes of the Mexican, hard as jet beads, did not waver. "We must try to make up to you, coronon," he said, in the low voice that could be so dulcet. "I, myself, am very much at your service. Husband, after all, are not indispensable. For myself, I have often found them annoyances. Let us bear ourselves with resignation in his absence. The moon will still shine for you and for me."

Daunted, Doris looked at Jack, urgent appeal in her eyes. All her life she had shuffled and dealt the cards. Now her wishes did not count. The dread of imminent disaster chilled her. Jack knew better than she did how great was her danger. If the revolution gave promise of success the peril might be delayed, but as soon as Megares knew he was doomed to failure fear of the United States would no longer be a factor in his calculations. He would probably seize Doris and take her into the mountains with him, there to lead a fly-by-night existence, harried from one fastness to another, as the federal troops pursued the outlaws.

The young man smiled at her. "What must be, must, Doris. After all, Gen. Megares has given his word that all will be well. Some day, when he is the great man of his country, we shall all look back on these days and remember how exciting they were."

"Yes indeed, dear lady, and you will visit me in Mexico City and we will talk of moons and old memories," Megares purred. Doris forgot her fears and began to smile.

Lee and Jack were alone at the morning meal on the day succeeding the one when their mail had been delivered. Long since Megares had left for Palo Duro. "Dunc tells me that each of my riders has to report at night," Lee said, pouring coffee for her guest. "They are to take care of the stock during the day, but if they don't show up to report they'll be treated as spies. If one disappears the others will be held responsible, and Dunc is to talk with me only once a day to get orders. Just after breakfast. We're only prisoners."

"I had guessed that," Hadley said with his sardonic smile. Her clear eyes looked into his. "What will he do to us when he sees the revolt is failing—if it comes to that?"

"He'll probably let us go."

"And Doris?"

"He won't let her go," he answered slowly.

"We must save her, Jack. We must find a way," she cried.

Tells sister easy way to wash clothes whiter

"I CAN'T understand it, Elsie—a sensible girl like you scrubbing clothes! Change to Rinso, the famous 'no-work' soap. It soaks out dirt—all you need to do is RINSE. That saves your strength—saves the clothes, too!"

Rich suds—in washers, too

Even in hardest water, Rinso suds are thick, creamy, lasting. You need no bar soaps, chips or softeners. Cup for cup, Rinso gives twice as much suds as lightweight, puffed-up soaps. These rich suds get clothes so white, even boiling isn't necessary.

The makers of 40 famous washers recommend Rinso. And it's great for dishwashing. Get the BIG package.

And Now It's Olympiad Hats

Here's the latest, girls. The California Olympiad hat. Cute, huh? With the traditional laurel wreath of the famous games around its crown the little bonnet was designed by Anita R. Kellogg, of Los Angeles, and to judge by its success when introduced there the timely novelty promises to become one of the popular 1932 styles. Ethel Wade is shown wearing one of the new Olympiad hats.
